Dr. William T. Doyle

We, the Class of 1961, dedicate this yearbook to Dr. William T. Doyle.

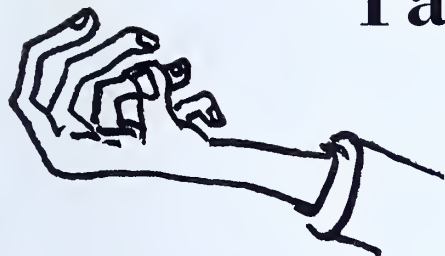

At the same time that we joined the Lick-Wilmerding Student Body four years ago, Dr. Doyle became a member of the Faculty. Since that time he has received his Ph.D. degree from the University of California and has been named Assistant Dean of Lick-Wilmerding.

It has been Dr. Doyle's desire to help us become well-informed young men, and the example of intellectual curiosity which he has set for us is now paramount in our minds. As our class sponsor he has given us advice which has brought a close student-teacher relationship. As Freshmen in his World History class we learned of the things which a man of his caliber deems important, and we began, because of his instruction, to think about the positions we were to take on many critical issues. He has made us aware of problems, but we have found that it is up to us to look for the solutions. In United States History he carried the course far beyond the boundaries of textbook study. We read novels written by some of the greatest thinkers of the world, and we held debates on pressing questions. In Economics, in our Senior year, many of us were prepared for later work in college through the summation in theory of all we had previously studied of history.

But, as Dr. Doyle has stressed to us, it is one thing to be fed knowledge and quite another to use it. Here is a man alive with "using knowledge." After attending college and finding his niche in life, he has not been content to stand still; he seeks to be an active part of our changing world.

It is in appreciation of this opportunity to be intimately associated with so erudite and inspiring a person that we are proud to make this dedication.

Director's Message

The challenges of these times are matters of record. Almost daily they are so completely documented in all forms of communication that we are prone to think more in terms of cataloguing these challenges than we are in realizing that challenges met and overcome are what make real living. The many great accomplishments which represent challenges met do create other goals, but in our pursuit of these newly created goals, we do not often enough pause to praise and contemplate progress as it is made.

In school life the student is pointed continually toward his future. He is informed daily of the multiplicity of obstacles which he must encounter and prepare to overcome. There are momentary pauses and some commendations offered when examination and report card grades are announced, but usually with an almost breathless haste we express concern about the next test, the next report card grade. We are so concerned with the up-coming challenge that we but scan the measured success which has been achieved at any present moment. We do post in one or another usual, accepted form our acknowledgments of achievements, but we do not often enough nor long enough pause to share with the students our mutual pleasure and appreciation for what has been done. Instead we plunge head-long into the maze of future needs for progress in learning and, in so doing, bypass the vital human need we all share for some plateau living. We can better scale the next heights if we are allowed the privilege of getting a second breath. We too often push near collapse instead of moving with intelligently paced planning toward the greater peaks which demand our best efforts if they are to be scaled. We are not suggesting holidays on plateau areas. We are suggesting that success can come more effectively and often more quickly if we permit ourselves time to savor the significance of each forward step.

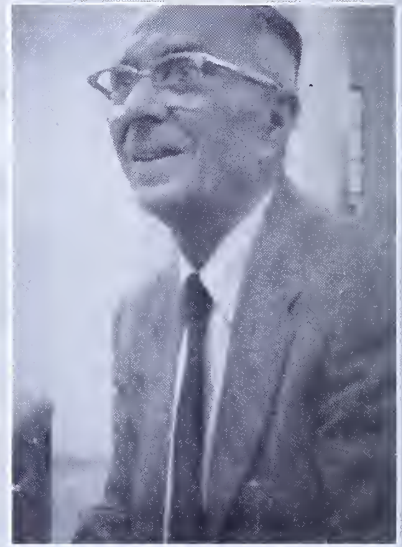

One of the few remaining opportunities schools possess which can be used to meet the introspective need we all have is the high school yearbook. Annually our students and teachers work together to bring forth for themselves and posterity a report of accomplishments and activities through which these have been made possible. The 1961 Tiger does this significant job well. It not only reports what Lick-Wilmerding students have done, it also indicates how and, sometimes subtly, sometimes directly, tells you why. The "why" emerges always from the fact that these are capable, well-directed young men. Why they achieve is due in part to their capabilities and in part to their direction. The result demonstrates their willingness to use these abilities and sharpen them into skills. Their yearbook is an excellent example of this merging and speaks distinctly and pertinently for them. We are proud of our students and are continually challenged to offer the direction they demand and deserve.

Class of '61

Four short years ago we, the present Senior Class, emerged from the "dark ages" of grammar school. We had over 70 members in 1957 and, like all Freshman classes, were on the short end of all the abuses heaped on us by relentless Upperclassmen. The big load of homework caught some of us by surprise as we sampled our first high school courses; we had four solids and little time left for loafing. Our aching fingers reminded us of our lowly status when we scribbled plates for Sketching and gathered reproductions for Art. We turned out "thousands" of useless drawers in Woodshop and miscellaneous metal shavings in Metal Shop.

The Sophomore year brought our second year of a foreign language, the second PROG presentation, and the second Tiger Fair. Also the Class of '61 first established a reputation for fine athletes when it trounced all other classes in intramural competition.

As Juniors we waded through PSAT exams, Merit Scholarship Tests and, for most of us, six solids. Although we had finally attained the rank of "Upperclassmen," the honor was partially empty because, to our chagrin, the Smoking Room door had been closed for good. But then, through due process of promotion, we became Seniors.

College Board preparation dominated our English classes and the Art class invaded the Metal Shop, with disastrous results for Mr. Pratt. Our Class of '61, now a trim fifty-five members, produced two Merit Finalists and, as a group, placed near the top in national College Board averages. During our last year here at Lick several things served to bring "notoriety" to the Senior Class; some of these are better known than others.

The replica of the Lick-Wilmerding Axe, which was so lovingly donated to the Student Body by the Class of '60, was "rededicated" by the Class of '61 (and then swiped by the Class of '62). A Civics class composed entirely of Seniors sang The Star Spangled Banner while the Dean conducted. The celebrated Little Group dissolved in Mrs. Ungaretti's morning coffee. The Seniors signed over Paul Gray's Secretary-Treasurer's pad to the Class of '61. The problem of the Smoking Room was finally solved when Seniors policed lunchtime smoking and also founded the B.S.S.S. (Before School Smoking Society).

Without being ultra, ultra cool or ridiculously individualistic, the Class of '61 has managed to distinguish itself both collectively and individually.

"COOL" is the word for Bill Bacon's cool MG, Kit Latham's cool "transformation," Nift Wronsky's cool shoes, and Rosie Gantner's guitar.

"NICE" is the word for Dick Johnson's nice nature, Larry Smith's nice talk, Hugh Wallenfels' nice girl, and Lee Guth's nice looks.

Our class has had its share of color. There are Rob Brunig's red T-Bird and also Tom Meyer's red complexion. Eye-dazzling shades marked the fierce Western shirt rivalry between John Pascoe and Mike Rice. Unforgettable moments include the Virility Contest, Rube Tyrer and "Bumpkin" Fred Madden, Lloyd Ackerman's last stand at the Block L-W party, the hot words and cold food at the lunch table when John Lermen and Mike Gallis carried on a "great debate," and the spectacle made by Lee Berman's bananas and yogurt.

Long to be remembered is the latent originality which gave us Leonardo da Barone's art work or the "entertainment" at Joe Osterloh's Council Meetings.

And, if anyone should doubt that we are fifty-five men and true, let us examine our physical characteristics. The Class of '61 will be remembered as the class which gave us Jeff Cowan's muscles, John Gunn's knees, Bob Wyler's "rotary mouth," and Steve Swadesh's record-breaking case of sunburn.

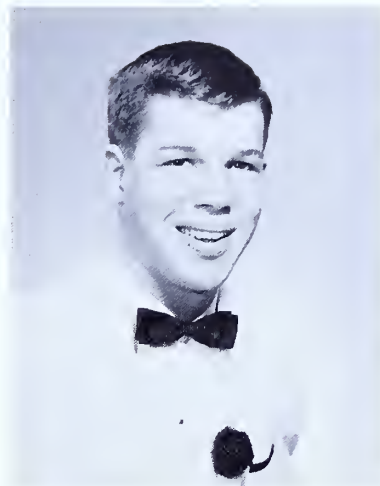

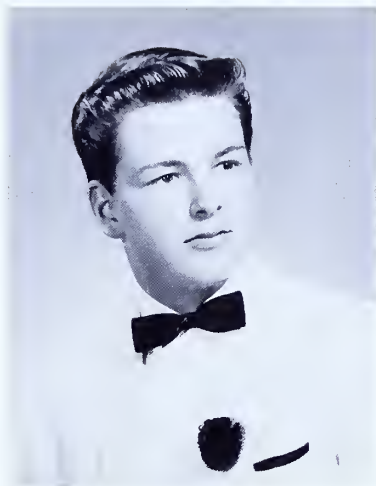

But most of the collective honors that the Class of '61 has received have not come from others' recognition of the above events or characteristics. Rare is the class which has exhibited so much school spirit as has the Class of '61. It is for this tradition that we are primarily noted. The school officers elected from our class have been, almost without exception, the finest that a single class has produced at Lick for quite some time. Of note are the 100% Student Body Card sales which we have posted for the last three semesters.

The members of any class always have a chance to hear what others think and feel about their efforts, and, being no exception, we have heard faculty and other persons connected with the school comment on numerous occasions. What follows in this section of the Tiger is what we really think of Lick and ourselves. We hope that you will find this somewhat tongue-in-cheek description as informative as we trust it will be entertaining.

Senior Wills

- I, LLOYD ACKERMAN, will my six-two frame to Dan Aglito so he can play basketball like me.
- I, RON ADLER, having been the receiver of one tackling dummy willed to me by Charles Dimmler, take pleasure in willing the same, slightly more used, to Ken Adelson.
- I, BILL BACON, will my amazing football abilities and phenomenal speed to Joel Belway.
- I, DENNIS BAILEY, will to Doctor Doyle the complete works of J. Edgar Hoover and to Mrs. Ungaretti a volume of the complete efforts of Kenneth Rexroth.
- I, JOHN BAREN, will my flashing blue and white track spikes to Mark Shipley and my cockiness to Dave Ottey.
- I, LEE BERMAN, being of sound mind and body and being unable to think of any other two groups who deserve each other more, hereby will the entire Student Body to the entire Faculty.
- I, JAMES BIGELOW, will my Advanced Chemistry book to anyone who will will me enough money to pay for it
- I, ROB BRUNIG, do hereby will the pipes on my T-Bird to Stu Shaffer for his Metropolitan.
- I, JAMES CHIMERA, will one new cash register to the bookstore.
- I, JEFF COWAN, will to next year's football team one massive grave at the Forest Lawn Cemetery because they'll need it.
- I, BOB DICKINSON, being of brainwashed mind and enfeebled body, will the ten pounds of muscle I gained this year to Larry Purmont.
- I, MIKE GALLIS, will to Rich Inman my ability to pound Juniors in the locker room and to Bruce Donoghue a bill for 10,000 rides to school.
- I, STEVE GANTNER, will my guitar and didily-boppin' style to Rich Inman for entertainment in the locker room.
- I, GORDON GOULD, will to Walt Curtner, all my A chemistry workbook papers and to Joel Belway my ability to be second string Varsity quarterback two years in a row.
- I, PAUL GRAY, being of analytic mind and overweight body, will my expired subscription to the Teachers' Benevolent Association to Mrs. Ungaretti and my poor Italian accent to Steve Brinck.
- I, CLAY GRILLO, will to Mrs. Ungaretti my ability to stay on key and to Mrs. Sweeney my superior stamp-licking qualities.

- I, JOHN GUNN, will my knobby knees to Dave Ottey.
- I, LELAND GUTH, will my slide rule with the slip cursor to any up-and-coming lower classman who has a spring that fits it.
- I, WILLIAM HORN, will to any future physics students my copious collection of notes in the hope that they will cause him as much worry as they caused me.
- I, PETE JACOBI, will to the office staff a book on Greek hieroglyphics so that in the future they will be able to translate all grade books.
- I, DICK JOHNSON, will to Stu Shaffer one massive auto accident and to Mr. Britton one gold-plated physics quiz.
- I, DOUG KEY, will to Mr. Doyle past February 29th issues of T.V. Guide for an easy reference to better viewing.
- I, ROGER KLAUE, will my kicking foot to Dave Ottey to stick in his big mouth.
- I, PETER KRAEMER, will the Spirit of Christmas Past to Mr. Breger.
- I, CHRISTOPHER LATHAM, will to any worthy lower classman my amorphous grades and benign nature.
- I, DAL LEITE, being of radical mind, will two hundred boxes of throat lozenges to Mr. Doyle for his poor overworked larynx.
- I, JOHN LERMEN, will to Mr. Pivernetz and all subsequent Civics teachers three slightly worn copies of the Communist Manifesto.
- I, FRED MADDEN, will to Rich Inman one bottle of Silky Straight for his hair.
- I, PHIL MARKWART, will my ability to ace-out my buddies to anyone who is as good at it as I am.
- I, RICH MARSHALL, will to Jim Jeremias five eighteen-carat gold buttons for his black vest and a half-full bottle of coffee liqueur to Bob Dean-Turner.
- I, MALCOLM McCORKLE, will my expert welding ability to all ten less fortunate Juniors.
- I, LEE McFARLAND, will my lettering ability to Mike Stolowitz.
- I, TOM MEYER, will.
- I, KEN MILLER, will one chewed, cracked, and gnawed drumstick to Mrs. Ungaretti.
- I, BERNARD MONJAUZE, will my will power to anyone who will want to will his will to my will.
- I, DOUG NAUGLER, will to Mr. Pratt my ability to make pyramids.
- I, BILL NEWELL, do hereby will Jim Jeremias a leeching license.
- I, JACK NILSON, will to Mike Bullis one Corvette box for his deuce and a Mighty Mouse Muscle-Building Kit to Frank Young.

- I, JOE OSTERLOH, will three $1.00 ties to Dean Pivernetz, a podium to Mr. Doyle, and a lifetime pass for Fatty Attie's Ukrainian Steam Baths to Mr. Vukicevich.
- I, JOHN PASCOE, being of sound mind and clean shirt, will one nice clean sheet of paper to Mr. Britton, a bottle of correction fluid to the office to make up for the gallons I've used, and my stage crew job to anyone who wants it.
- I, MIKE RICE, will absolutely nothing to nobody because there is nothing worth giving and nobody worth giving it to. I also will my positive attitude.
- I, DENIS RUSSELL, will my hardness and my ability to get out of tight situations to Jim Jeremias.
- I, MARTIN SELZER, will one pocket-size Univac and one used roll of microfilm to anyone who'd like to pass those little physics quizzes.
- I, BILL SHATTUCK, will to Mr. Sleeper and Mr. Stearn all of my excuses to get out of their classes.
- I, LARRY SMITH, will to any lower classman the right to drive Mrs. Ungaretti nuts.
- I, STEVE SWADESH, will to Mrs. Ungaretti and the Music Appreciation class one warped recording of Woodland Sketches by MacDowell and a jar of instant coffee to the first period art class.
- I, RAY THOMPSON, will my membership in the Huckleberry Hound Fan Club to Ed McGuigan.
- I, PHIL THOMSEN, will my ability to remember dentist appointments to Jim Jeremias.
- I, ROB TYRER, will my coolness with the ladies, which Charlie Morf gave to John Gantner, which John Gantner gave to George Wells, which George Wells gave to Chip Hunt, and which Chip Hunt gave to me to Jim Jeremias.
- I, GARY WALDEN, will to Mrs. Ungaretti one band (slightly used).
- I, HUGH WALLENFELS, will to Steve Gratch my ability to drive a sports car.
- I, PETE WANGER, will fifty pounds of my excess avoir-dupois to my brother Mike to help correct a previous error.
- I, PETE WRONSKY, will my front row physics seat, which I have held for two years, to anyone who is fast enough to dodge Mr. Britton's perpetually revolving index finger.
- I, BOB WYLER, will to Bruce Donoghue my athletic supporter, which hasn't been washed since August 29, 1960, and my share of the rip-up pad willed to me by John Shenk.
- I, DIXON YEAZELL, will my Mechanical Drawing skills to Louis Ohls so he can get an A from Mr. Sleeper.

The boys pictured on these pages are responsible for administering almost all matters concerning Lick student activities. To the President goes the job of coordinating the Council's programs with the Director and the Dean. The Vice-President has charge of school dances and organizes the Script Block Society. The boys elected to the above offices wage hard-fought campaigns; to them student government means student responsibility. The other eight Council members are chosen from their respective classes. The diligence of these Council members and officers is typical of the qualities which make Lick-Wilmerding unique.

It has proved effective in curbing infractions, as students convicted are sentenced to tasks which involve cleaning designated areas of the school.

The California Scholarship Federation, a statewide organization providing recognition for outstanding high school students, this year has even more members than ever before at Lick-Wilmerding. Under the direction of Mr. Britton, its faculty advisor, and its officers, William Horn, President, Gary Walden, Vice-President, and Harley Schwartz, Secretary-Treasurer, the chapter worked on the regional CSF conference, which was held in San Francisco on April 22, 1961. The Tiger, along with other school organizations, commends the seniors who have become Life Members by qualifying for CSF for at least four semesters including one in their senior year.

The Lick-Wilmerding High School Radio Club is a group of enthusiastic "ham" operators. From their shack, located in the Electric Shop, they have established two-way contact with over fourteen different countries and almost every state in the union. The club can operate two separate stations simultaneously, using the school call letters, K6JS. In times of disaster, the boys could supply emergency communications. A new beam antenna has helped them considerably, making contact possible with Japan and South Africa. In the past year a kilowatt transmitter and a used military receiver have been donated to the club. Formed only two years ago, the Radio Club is already one of the most popular and successful groups at Lick.

In browsing through an annual the reader may imagine that a yearbook is written by some "invisible student" who attends school unnoticed and carefully records all events throughout the school year. Though the majority of our student body has its first contact with the Tiger the moment they receive it, the boys appearing above are all well acquainted with various segments of the finished product. Some were writers, whose job was to put down "for posterity" their impressions of the school year 1960-61. Such lasting work cannot be jotted down at a moment's notice; rare was the article which was accepted before it had been rewritten five times. Some students were photographers, who can recall the difficulties of obtaining one picture or another, especially when battling over-crowding deadlines, which often made quick processing necessary. The individuals whose job was laying out these seventy-two pages often found that problems of space forced them to delete items in some places and add information in other areas. Last is the typing crew, which was always on call to produce countless copy sheets all perfect to printer's specifications. Each of the students pictured above has had a part in putting together the 1961 Tiger. We trust that our readers find the result of their work enjoyable and engrossing.

Tiger Tales

J. Lermen, P. Gray, R. Tyrer, Editor; M. Rice.

Our literary magazine, Tiger Tales, the yearbook's cultured and aggressive younger brother, published a superb issue in 1961. It was enthusiastically accepted by the students, who enjoyed seeing in print the best efforts of their classmates. Parents also purchased many copies of the magazine, which was put on sale at the Tiger Fair. Although in several cases it took the promise of consideration for publication to persuade Lick's "budding writers" to contribute, the results were worth the encouragement given by the Literary Board.

Cub

SITTING: P. Wanger, J. Osterloh, J. Gunn, P. Garin, A. Lea, J. Gibbs, B. Rosen. FRONT ROW, STANDING: S. Green, R. Karski, J. Pascoe, R. Brunig, D. Allen, W. Horn, L. McFarland, D. Frank, J. Wikse. A growing, working team of many members writes and edits our school newspaper, the Lick-Wilmerding Cub. Since receiving, in September of 1960, a room of its own in which to work, the Cub has been able to express more spirited and informative comments than ever before. Editor John Gunn and Assistant Editor Paul Garin managed the paper's several departments and this year have added important new features. One innovation was a weekly sports sheet on which scores and statistics of league football games were printed. One of the most significant departments worked at securing advertising. Over $60 was raised from this source. The money was kept aside for use in adding improvements to the new "publications' staff room." For the first time the Cub took editorial positions regarding varied phases of school life and presented each side in consecutive issues. The Cub newspaper has become a vital force in the activities of Lick students.

The "New" Newsreel

SITTING: A. Wegner, P. Garin, R. Peters, A. Hanley, P. Wanger. STANDING: R. Chiles, D. Rodoni, R. Karski, B. Rosen, G. Purmont, H. Turner, S. Green.

In the past the Newsreel was filmed during the year in the form of slides and, after limited showing, was filed away, never to be seen again. This year the Newsreel really became a "living" activity, as it abandoned slides in favor of photos which were periodically posted on a special bulletin board in the cafeteria. Several of the Newsreel's pictures were used by the Tiger and the Cub, thus making permanent some of the Club's classic candids. But the real importance of the 1961 Newsreel was its ever-vivid reflection of goings-on at Lick. The Tiger congratulates President Bernie Rosen and his group on their industrious and refreshing work.

Dance Committee

FIRST ROW: B. Monjauxe, T. Meyer, K. Miller, M. Baker, R. Hall, E. Reddick, J. Belway, R. Brunig, N. Wood, D. Frank, J. Wikse, A. Lea. SECOND ROW: W. Bagge, R. Lowe, A. Wall, R. Campbell, R. Wallenfels, J. Gunn, F. Madden, R. Wyler, M. Gallis.

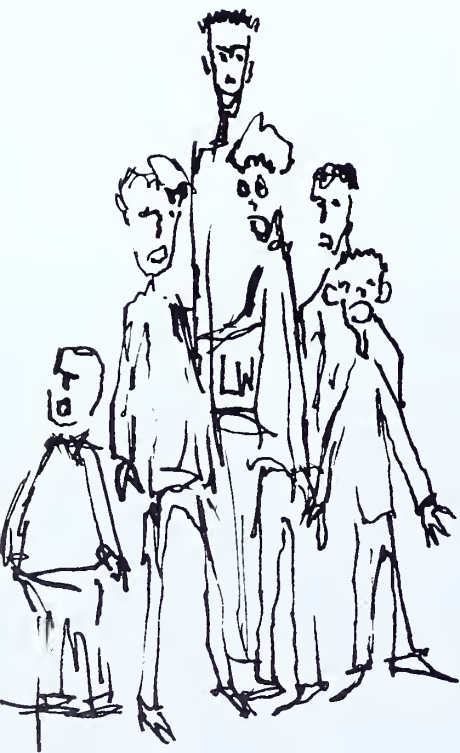

Featuring strong leadership, the Fall and Spring Dance Committees planned events under school Vice-Presidents Mike Gallis and Pete Wronsky respectively. The three Fall dances started off the year by instituting several unusual practices. The Annual Kick-Off dance featured the sound of the Superiors, whose novel instrumentals made a big hit. Walt Tolle-son's group entertained at the second dance, which had a jungle theme. The gym ceiling was covered with nets, and a large cauldron bubbling (with dry ice) was used as a "centerpiece." The boys wore grass skirts; and some of the girls, leopard skins. But as a "crowning touch" to the Fall dance season, the "Prohibition" dance offered two bands which played alternately; this was the first time two bands had ever played at a Lick dance. The guys wore double-breasted suits, and the gals, flapper costumes. Several large wine casks decorated the gym floor. The Spring saw a teenage idol come to Lick in the person of Eddie Quinteros, along with his Rockin' Aristocrats. A swingin' Beatnik dance followed, then the Senior Class' Slave Day record hop. The Election dance in early June closed out the greatest year ever for dances at Lick.

Glee Club

FRONT ROW: D. Lindstrom, R. Klein, A. Johnson, L. Berman, R. Karski, B. Monjauze, M. McCorkle, K. Miller, L. Smith, C. Grillo, D. Leite, Mrs. Ungaretti. SECOND ROW: A. Hauer, T. Sullivan, J. FOURTH ROW: P. McDaniels, W. Shaffer, E. Richardson, S. Swadesh, D. Bailey, M. Loran, R. Klaue, J. Galgiani, J. Dalton. FIFTH ROW: R. McIntyre, S. Darling, S. Drewes, A. Wall, S. Brinck, W. Farber, H. Wallenfels, P. Gray, P. Wanger.

If one can say that the Lick-Wilmerding Glee Club has a motto, it would be "quality without compromise." The chief reason for this excellent standard is the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Ungaretti, head of the Music Department. The group's "fresh" sound and seemingly effortless presentation are the result of the many weeks of patience and coaxing which Mrs. Ungaretti gives to the chorus of sixty voices. Perhaps the greatest compliment which can be paid to the Glee Club is that it seems to have a large repertoire and, when called upon, offers appropriate selections. Actually, though the latter impression is often given, work for the various performances begins months before the date of presentation. Each year writers for the Annual try to capture with adjectives the feeling a student gets from being in the Glee Club. It is difficult to describe a "feeling." The applause won by the Glee Club throughout the year is as enthusiastic as the interest of Mrs. Ungaretti, and the students concerned match her vitality with exciting performances.

Little Group

J. Galgiani, S. Drewes, D. Lindstrom, P. Gray, P. Wanger, R. Klein, C. Grillo, D. Leite, Mrs. Ungaretti.

For the first time in four years the Little Group possessed ten voices so nearly equal in fine qualities that Mrs. Ungaretti found it difficult to give solos to the one boy whose voice was the "most powerful" or "best" among them. Another new feature was the flexible composition of the Little Group; new members were added in an attempt to achieve a finer blend. The result of this new policy was that tenors, baritones and basses all put forth an extra effort to sound "masculine, yet mellow" and thus to remain a part of this select portion of the Glee Club. Mrs. Ungaretti's "four-part prodigies" combined the skill and zeal mentioned above to delight audiences throughout the year. For the Little Group, 1960-61 was a most successful season, one which will be remembered by its listeners and members alike.

It takes hard work and outstanding ability to acquire a black and gold "Block L.W." and to become a member of this exclusive Lick organization. In 1960-61, during the terms of President Jeff Cowan and Secretary-Treasurer Ron Adler, the Society did much to inspire comradeship among its members, especially in the field of extra-curricular activities. The Tiger would like to thank the members of the Block Society for their help in making Lick-Wilmerding's student body run more efficiently. We also congratulate them on their athletic achievements during the past year.

In cooperation with Mr. Jackson, its faculty advisor, the Junior Varsity Block Society has completed a second successful year. President Rich Ward leads the group, which is composed of those athletes who have merited awards for their Junior Varsity activities in the Lick-Wilmerding sports program.

Script Block Society

Although the Script L. W. Society is among the smallest in terms of active members, its significance, especially this year, has made it larger in scope than ever before. Under the leadership of officers Mike Gallis and Paul Gray, this service society, which acquires new members through their participation in school affairs, has launched a revitalization program. The traditional sweater "block" was replaced with a cap on which a miniature "Script L.W." was sewn. The group was given explicit responsibilities, including ushering for school gatherings, keeping order at rallies, and being on-call for miscellaneous duties at all times. The Class of '61 is proud to have been the impetus which has given Lick the beginnings of a truly workable service organization.

Rally Committee

For the first time in recent years, with a hard-working, organized committee, Lick presented many fine rallies. During both Fall and Spring semesters, Chairman Fred Madden led the planning of three types of rallies. Significant in content were those which informed the Student Body of events within the school itself. Student nominations, awards presentations, and faculty messages were the subjects of this type of rally. The popular "pep" rallies were scheduled often, especially during football season. Cheerleading and skits which poked fun at other teams in our conference were the fare at these abbreviated meetings. But the most entertaining of all were the full-length rallies, which were often planned months in advance. Many talented students performed during 1960-61. Singers, instrumental groups, and skits won the approval of the audiences. The Glee Club, the Little Group, and their comic counterparts, the Infinitesimals, vocalized, while instrumental solos, duets, and combos earned high praise. Meriting special mention is the Prog Quintet, which, besides appearing at rallies, won Bay Area fame by appearing on television and winning a cash prize. The Spring season was highlighted by a visit from the Dartmouth College Glee Club. This year has proved that Lick can have fine rallies as a result of capable management and planning. This group's job can well be an example to all future rally committees.

Prog

The date was October 28, 1960; the place with Bothin Memorial Hall. Shooting shapes and brilliant colors marked the beginning of the fourth annual PROG production. This year Mr. Breger and the students in the Art Department faced a problem unique in PROG's history. The show for 1960 was no longer a novelty; most of the 700 people in the audience had seen PROG or at least had heard about it. Everyone connected with the production came through, however, and the result was the most entertaining, polished, and professional-looking PROG to date. The word has spread about our novel use of shadow, light, and rhythm; several guest performances of the show have been presented. PROG has indeed established itself as a major activity at Lick, while its techniques have been recognized as vital and unusual.

Varsity Football

Possessing the strongest defense in the Bay Counties League, the Tigers posted a fine record of four wins and two losses. Four Lick linemen — S. Gantner, B. Wyler, J. Cowan, and B. Donoghue received All Conference honors and were the nucleus of a hard-charging forward wall. The team's drive was evidenced by their holding all opponents to an average of only 6.8 points per game! Coached ably by John Draco, with assistance from Don Oldham, Jim Hickey, and Don Baikie, the Tigers won four games in a row, three times whitewashing their adversaries. The Varsity went into the championship game at Menlo with a four-win, one-loss record, the one defeat being at the season's opener in San Rafael. But Lick suffered a bruising setback at the hands of the powerful Acorns, 28 to 0. Although the lack of an experienced backfield possibly cost the Tigers the B.C.A.L. championship, the spirit and desire to win were apparent. Lick can look forward to a strong 1961 Varsity.

This year the Lick Junior Varsity football team's main accomplishments were learning fundamentals of the game and sharing the experience of team sportsmanship. Although the J.V.'s did not post a victory, the season's activity ended with bright hopes for 1961. The J.V.'s served as a "training ground" for future Varsity players. Among the noteworthy were D. Natcher, the most inspirational player, and T. Valens and L. Ohls, team captains. Finally to Coaches Jackson and Label, who devotedly gave their time and patience, go our gratitude and praise.

Tiger Varsity Ties for First Place

The question in the Bay Counties Athletic League in 1961 was, "Could a superbly balanced team compete with and win over opponents who were not well-rounded but had two or three fine players?" In the tightest B.C.A.L. competition in years, Lick was forced to settle with Concordia for a tie for the championship. The Tigers triumphed over highly-touted Emery and, at one point in the campaign, went on to score ten straight wins. One big reason for our consistency was Rich Inman, the team's top scorer with 117 points. Following him were Seniors who filled out the main playing forces: Steve Gantner, runner-up in scoring, Fred Madden, Joe Osterloh, and Bob Wyler, whose drive and enthusiasm turned many near defeats into victories. The Black and Gold produced an outstanding defensive man in Gordy Gould and assured next year's squad of experience by the insertion of Junior Dave Ottey into the list of regulars. For their efforts Inman, Gantner, and Gould received 1st, 2nd, and 3rd All-Conference team ratings respectively. Under the skillful direction of Phil Vukicevich, the Tigers are slated to retain the top slot next year. By that time, if the well-balanced team becomes a tradition at Lick, we may not have to share a title; we'll take it.

J. V. Basketball

FRONT ROW: S. Langmaid, T. McNeil, C. Hawley, B. Farber, E. Koplowitz, S. Green, M. Baker. SECOND ROW: R. Dickinson, D. Newman, J. Marsh, S. Leonard.

This season Lick's Junior Varsity demonstrated remarkable determination. At a time when enthusiasm was ebbing the J.V.'s suddenly caught fire and turned a winless, sparkless season into a fine finish and a sign that next year's J.V. squad may well be on top of the pack. Their final won-lost record stood at 3 and 7; however, that result does not tell the complete story of Junior Varsity basketball at Lick for 1961. Coach Art Free organized an able crew. Captain Bill Farber and his fellow-players gained experience and confidence as the season progressed. Between them Steve Leonard and Steve Langmaid, the team's two highest scorers, bagged 127 points. Larry Marsh was voted second team All-Conference center. Serving as a steadying force was Bob Dickinson at guard position. The ability and esprit de corps which were cited by other members of the B.C.A.L. indicate that the J.V.'s will send many fine players to the Varsity next year, and they'll surely have enough left over to put up a battle for the Junior Varsity Championship.

C Basketball

FRONT ROW: D. Bernstein, N. Wood, C. Dyer-Bennet, C. Buck-Kauffman, G. Pritzker. SECOND ROW: B. Gordon, W. Shaffer, J. Layden, E. Richardson, J. Madden.

Varsity Baseball

FRONT ROW: D. Sederquist, W. Morgan, G. Ogawa, R. Dickinson, J. Belway, W. Tobin, M. Baker. SECOND ROW: Coach Label, S. Gantner, G. Gould, J. Osterloh, P. Jacobi, R. Klein, J. Cowan, F. Young, T. Bernhard, G. Courtney.

Under the excellent coaching of Phil Vukicevich and Ron Label, the Tiger Varsity Baseball team embarked on pennant road in an attempt to capture the B.C.A.L. championship. Led by a large array of Senior veterans, Lick had a season of exciting baseball. Defense was one of our strong points. The infield was sparked by Joe Osterloh and Gordy Gould, along with Dave Sederquist, who was the only starting Sophomore. The outfield relied on the strong arms of Jeff Cowan and Bob Klein. The offense was, however, far from neglected. Steve Gantner and Pete Jacobi led the Tigers' assault on opposing pitchers.

J. V. Baseball

FRONT ROW: J. Boyce-Smith, A. Auerbach, T. Fox, B. Gordon, B. Grimes, D. Allen. SECOND ROW: A. Lederer, T. Valens, R. Partridge, J. Hall, W. Wright, A. Hayakawa, E. Richardson. THIRD ROW: Coach Doyle, D. Cherney, G. Courtney, D. Newman, S. Leonard, A. Miksak, R. McClave, M. Joseph, D. Rives.

With a tremendous turnout of Freshman and Sophomore talent and an optimistic Coach Doyle, the J.V.'s commenced firing toward a B.C.A.L. championship.

Hustle and determination were the mottos of this year's J.V. ball club. Led by a strong defensive infield and some whiplash arms in the outfield, along with some erratic but at times top-notch pitching, the Tiger team was a feared opponent. The potential displayed by this year's club indicates that the Varsity should be well stocked with good ball players next year.

Swimming Team

Wally Macumber, the new coach for the Lick swimming team, has a group of capable and eager paddlers and plungers. As of this writing, Lick has won one meet and lost one. Besides Napa and Petaluma, the two meets already completed as of the end of March, Lick's swimmers must face Santa Rosa, Ravenswood, and S.R.M.A. The conference meet which will follow should indicate how we rate alongside the best of the other teams. The Tigers' wet warriors are led by Rob Tyrer in freestyle competition and by several veterans adept at backstroke. Butterfly man is Clint Hyder, and diving is a strong point with Jim Bigelow, Bill Shephard and Ernie Reddick. Skillful man-power has given Lick-Wilmerding a moist success in 1961.

Track

Track Team Has Large Turnout

By far the most surprising and gratifying thing about the 1961 track season was the excellent turnout. Blending the skills of two and three-year men and "rookies" in just the right way to produce a winning season, co-coaches Dave Fleishhacker and Marshall Stearn used the team's strong points: dashes, shot-put, high-jump, pole-vault, and some middle distance runs. Varsity hopes depended upon miler Dixon Yeazell, as well as hurdler Bill Farber and shot-put and discus throwers Bob Wyler and Doug Naugler. A new Varsity man, Brian Barbata, was All-City last year. Leading broad-jumper was John Baren, while Mike Gallis won high-jump laurels, and Bob Dean-Turner, pole-vault honors. Added to these Varsity standouts were a host of "B" and "C" men who should continue to keep Lick a formidable opponent.

Tennis

Notorious Lick Netmen Seeded First

In 1961, as in the past, Lick is proud of its fine tennis team, undoubtedly one of the finest high school teams in this area. At this writing, the Tigers were undefeated in league competition, and the odds are good that this impeccable record will continue. Coach Breger's strong and well-rounded players also are expected to excel at the Pebble Beach tournament, which follows the regular season. Although several Seniors are graduating this year, prospects for the future are bright. Of the four top men on the squad, only Hugh Wallenfels will be departing. Remaining are Junior Dave Ottey, and Freshmen Steve Langmaid and Glen Pritzker.

TO CREATE THIS YEARBOOK the boys on the Tiger staff have Conceived and planned,
Drafted and scanned,
Filled in and worn thin,
Written and edited,
Ascribed and accredited.
WE'VE scribbled and drawn, torn up and stepped on essays and snapshots and sketches and whatnots.
Patience is tried,
Developer's dried,
The editor's cried,
The pressure's applied.
WE'VE met every deadline, selected each headline;
but we won the race, and all's in its place.
We're rolling in clover;
THANK HEAVEN, IT'S OVER!

The production of this yearbook would not have been possible without the aid of many people. We would like to extend special thanks to Assistant Editor Paul Gray for his unselfish work,
Mike Rice for the division pages and all of his fine art work,
Marc Goldyne for the cover drawing,
Mrs. Teterin for her untiring assistance and advice,
and the Don Bosco Studios for the Senior and activity pictures and help in meeting deadlines.

Final Word

In any high school there is offered to the student more than simply an academic education. What makes Lick-Wilmerding distinctive is that it offers so very much more. The education is definitely superior, but what makes Lick great, I feel, is an indefinable quality which I call the "spirit of Lick." One might try to describe it in terms of the invaluable experience of the close student-teacher relationship, the personal freedom of the individual student, and the opportunity to learn to accept responsibility and to become leaders. My four years at Lick-Wilmerding have been tremendously rewarding, and here I express my gratitude to all those people who have given my classmates and me the heritage of the Lick tradition.
